Goltz Judo Club

Goltz Judo is one the most popular programs offered by Claremont Human Services with many black belt members to provide highly personalized instruction. According to studies among leading psychologists, judo helps to improve self-confidence and build lifelong skills for the prevention of bullying and victimization. The Head Sensei, Gary Goltz, MBA, has been practicing judo for over 50 years and is an 8th Degree Black Belt. Sensei Goltz is Chair of the US Judo Association's National Promotion Board where he served as President. He is also 1st Vice President of the Southern California Judo Black Belt Federation and a Defensive Tactics Advisor to the Los Angeles Police Department. Sensei Goltz helped Ronda Rousey with her Olympic bid and is frequently featured in Black Belt magazine.
